From coursework to research, service, and internships, the experience of living and studying abroad is integral to a liberal arts education and key to broadening your intellectual and professional horizons.

Study Abroad continuously expands your already-excellent program options and can help you learn how best to plan and leverage your experience abroad.

Did you know?

• Notre Dame students can participate in more than 40 academic programs in more than 20 countries including summer and short-term programs.

• More than half of Notre Dame students study abroad before graduating—one of the highest rates among all universities in the nation.