

UNIVERSITY OF
NOTRE DAME

Department of Economics and Econometrics
Assistant Professor

The Department of Economics and Econometrics seeks applicants for up to three tenure-track positions. Exceptional candidates at the tenured level may also be considered. The department is undertaking a major building initiative that includes at least one endowed chair and several junior positions over the next few years. Evidence of excellence in research and teaching is essential. Compensation is very competitive. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, one research paper and three letters of recommendation. Candidates are encouraged to apply using the online application submission services of EconJobMarket.org, but can email their materials in pdf format to ecoe@nd.edu or mail them to the address below. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the positions are filled.

The University of Notre Dame is an international Catholic research university and an equal opportunity, affirmative action educator and employer with a strong institutional commitment to racial, cultural, and gender diversity. Women, minorities, and Catholics are encouraged to apply. For additional information, see <http://econometrics.nd.edu/>. CONTACT: Prof. Richard Jensen, Chair, Department of Economics and Econometrics, 434 Flanner Hall, University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, IN 46556-5611.