

UNIVERSITY OF
NOTRE DAME

Department of Psychology/
The Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies
Open Rank

The University of Notre Dame, Department of Psychology, invites applications for a tenure-track position (rank open), beginning in August 2010. We seek a candidate who studies the psychological dimensions and impact of war and other forms of violent conflict from a social psychological or developmental perspective. The successful candidate will have a joint appointment in Psychology and in The Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies. More information about the Psychology Department <http://psychology.nd.edu/> and the Kroc Institute <http://kroc.nd.edu/> is available on-line.

Applicants should show evidence of an ambitious research program and excellent teaching skills. Review of applications will begin in November, 2009 and continue until the position is filled. Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, three letters of reference, and two examples of written work to Joint Position Search Committee, Department of Psychology, 118 Hagggar Hall, University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, IN 46556.

The University of Notre Dame, an international Catholic research university, is an equal opportunity educator and employer with strong institutional and academic commitments to racial, cultural, and gender diversity. Information about Notre Dame is available at <http://www.nd.edu> .

[The University of Notre Dame is an affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to fostering a culturally diverse atmosphere for faculty, staff, and students. Women, minorities and those attracted to a university with a Catholic identity are especially encouraged to apply. Information about Notre Dame is available at <http://www.nd.edu>.]