

Study Theology. Do anything.

of recent Theology majors found success within six months of graduation.

30% started full-time jobs

Analyst, Leonard Green and Partners
Assistant director of product development, Marketing Architects
Associate consultant, Beghou Consulting
Business analyst, McKinsey & Company
Clinical research coordinator, Massachusetts General Hospital
Development associate, Lyon Living
Digital analyst, Accenture
Director of faith formation and youth ministry, St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church
Editor, Ave Maria Press

Editorial staff, National Catholic Reporter
Educational consultant, Apolish Thinktown Education
Fellow, U.S. Senate
Instructor, American University in Cairo
Matthew V. Storin Fellow, The Boston Globe
Project engineer, Xero Solar
Project manager, Epic
Redwoods analyst, DaVita
Sales executive, CH Robinson
Teacher, St. Monica Catholic High School
Value optimization systems engineer, GE

30% entered service programs

Alliance for Catholic Education, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Casa Juan Diego, Houston, Texas
Congregation of Holy Cross, Jinja, Uganda
FrancisCorps, Syracuse, New York
House of Brigid, Ireland
Jesuit Volunteer Corps, Washington, D.C.
Mennonite Central Committee, Honduras
Operation Safety Net, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

1% joined the military

Curriculum requirements

Primary major

1 foundations of theology and 1 development of theology course (required of all Notre Dame students)

Christian Traditions I and II

2 upper-division Scripture courses (Old Testament and New Testament)

1-credit Proseminar

5 theology electives

Supplementary major

1 foundations of theology and 1 development of theology course (required of all Notre Dame students)

Christian Traditions I and II

1 upper-division Scripture courses (Old Testament or New Testament)

1-credit Proseminar

3 theology electives

31% enrolled in graduate or professional school

Audiology: Gallaudet University
Bioethics and science policy: Duke University
Clinical psychology: University of Mississippi
Divinity: Assumption Seminary, Moreau Seminary
Interreligious studies: Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas
Law: Villanova University, University of Texas
Liturgical studies: Yale University
Medicine: Creighton University, Dominican University, Indiana University, Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis, Medical College of Wisconsin, Medical University of South Carolina, Michigan State University
Music education: University of Miami
Poetry: Miami University
Political science: Columbia University
School psychology: Michigan State University
Theology: University of Chicago
Theological studies: Boston College, Harvard University

8% pursued other opportunities

(Completing an internship, conducting research, taking a gap year, pursuing independent creative or freelance work, volunteering, etc.)

Source: Center for Career Development
First Destination Reports, 2017-2021

Hugo Kostelni '20
Theology major
Investment analyst, Franklin Templeton

"After graduation, I moved to Silicon Valley to work as an investment analyst on the corporate venture capital fund at Franklin Templeton, a global investment manager with $1.45 trillion in assets under management. I am the lead analyst on our team's global strategic investments and advise our portfolio companies on go-to-market strategy and technology development.

"The well-informed conscience that I developed in my Theology courses guides my work every day. With my theological training, I can contribute important ethical perspectives to guide my fund's investments in emerging technologies, like quantum computing and machine learning, that present new opportunities for good and evil in the world.

"My favorite part of the program was writing a senior thesis on mimetic theory and humanity in globalized markets that served as a synthesis of my theological studies and a roadmap for my professional journey. The process gave me an opportunity to engage with thinkers and leaders who apply Catholic social teaching to the ever-changing world and allowed me to make a humble contribution to the scholarly discussion.

"Though I majored only in Theology, Notre Dame and our alumni provided professional opportunities for internships and learning experiences to round out my theological studies. I studied abroad in Italy and worked summer internships at a hedge fund in New York City, tech investment bank in San Francisco, and venture capital fund in Silicon Valley. Now, as a part of the global Notre Dame alumni network, I enjoy paying it forward and helping future Fighting Irish."

Department of Theology 130 Malloy Hall
574-631-7811 theology.nd.edu theo@nd.edu

Director of Undergraduate Studies
Anthony Pagliarini apaglia1@nd.edu

UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME | ARTS & LETTERS